

To: Madam Chan/ Hong Kong Officials Training Centre,

I've come to know the course owing to one of my colleagues who had introduced it to me. This course was very organized and very useful to the participants who have strong aspiration to become police inspectors. The course was well structured covering the whole spectrum on Extended Interview and Final Interview.

During the 4-day course, I was entirely inspired by the course instructor, Madam CHAN. Madam CHAN is a retired Superintendent of the Police Force. She was a former veteran senior officer in the Force. She had wholly dedicated and paid enormous effort to the course participants. Although she has left the Force, she still wishes to help the serving Force members and outsiders who are truly interested in becoming police inspectors.

Although each lesson was scheduled for 3 hours, Madam CHAN always sacrificed her personal time to share her wealth of experience and knowledge with the participants. This evidently proves that she devote herself and does her utmost to train up the class.

Since Madam CHAN keeps abreast of the current trends in the Police Force, she could offer us updated and accurate information on Extended Interview and Final Interview. By studying in the course, participants can have full understanding about the process and they are able to practise for all the sections. At the end of the course, Madam CHAN also gave us great advice individually to further enhance our capability. The course was comprehensive and beneficial to the students indeed.

To sum up, I am so pleased to have the chance to take the course. The course not only enables me to understand more about myself but also polishes my interview skills. I can honestly say that Madam CHAN did help us a lot and she was selfless in sharing her knowledge with us. I take this opportunity to express my wholehearted gratitude to her and the centre. Thanks again.
